PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

HELLO QUANTUM WORLD AND HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

I hope this month's newsletter finds you all in great health and enjoying this festive season. Have you noticed the skies seem to be just a little bit INDIGO these days? Though we were always very confident about the success we would have with the new Indigo, the response was almost overwhelming. So many of you welcomed the Indigo with open arms, and I would personally like to thank you all. At the same time, I would like to thank all of you who are part of our Quantum Family - for being just that, OUR FAMILY. Sticking it out and supporting each other through the good times and the bad, that is what makes a family strong. Funny, the theme at Congress 09 was Standing Strong; and we set the intention for 2010's theme to be Staying Connected, and here we are this Quantum Family of 10,000 or more - succeeding in both sentiments. A huge shift is happening all around us, for the evolution of our entire industry.

As we approach the New Year, and begin planning for 2010, now is the time for reflecting on all that we've learned. The development of the Eternale taught us about the potential for increased sensitivity and coherence in our technology's signals. The ordeals with media and regulatory bodies taught us the absolute need for proper marketing materials, training and research. And the economic challenges reminded us to improve our infrastructure and customer service.

The "What's New Clasp32" Tour taught us the realities of a somewhat antiquated database system and the limitations of the existing device, while also reminding us of the incredible love and passion that practitioners have for this technology and the work that they do. With all of these lessons learned, we prepared ourselves to move into 2010, THE YEAR OF THE INDIGO. Our sincerest heartfelt gratitude to all of you who have stood by us, and assisted us in growing and adapting to these powerful lessons!

At our home office in Calgary, over the last week and a half, we have hosted the new INDIGO Software Development Team, which includes programmers from Canada, US and Budapest working round the clock to create the Beta version of the first Indigo software. In the next few days, the first beta devices will be shipped to our leadership team around North America. The great news about this is that many of these changes and adaptations will be applicable to help strengthen and stabilize the Clasp32 platform as well! So, whether you are a SCIO owner or a new INDIGO enthusiast we are sure that you will find this shift beneficial to all.

With this I wish you and your families a wonderful holiday season!

Brian Thompson, President
The Quantum Alliance

KATHY'S KORNER

"Let's drive not just breakthroughs in new products, but new ways to give more and more people access to these inventions and their benefits. This is a broad and important mission, and I believe we all have a part to play in it"

Bill Gates

While Bill Gates may have been talking about his own "Microsoft" intentions when speaking the words above, they struck me as interesting as to what we are going through as an organization. So for a moment, take away Mr. Gates' focus and think of the words. "breakthroughs in new products"; "give people more access"; "their benefits"; "important mission" and... "I believe we all have a part to play in it" ...

My goodness, does this not completely describe what we are going through right at this moment? Let me for a moment, step away from my Eternale role and talk INDIGO. Is this not a "breakthrough"? Will INDIGO not allow people more "access" to the amazing "benefits" of this technology? And, personally, I believe "we all have a part to play in it"

I hope you all agree that we have been given a tremendous opportunity here with the INDIGO and we truly are moving forward to something we can all be so very proud of. Thank you to all of you who have chosen to move ahead with your new INDIGO order. We look forward to the New Year and being able to bring this technology to you. Thank you to those of you who are in the process of placing your order as we will be happy to assist you however we can and thank you to those of you who will continue your work with your QXCI or SCIO. Know how much we appreciate what you do and we will always be here to support you.

To continue this spirit and season of thanks, I would also like to take this moment to thank everyone on the Alliance Team. For everyone at the Calgary office, all the Support Central Team in Calgary and abroad, The Quantum Academies and The Quantum Center of Excellence, your continued dedication and desire to bring excellence to this organization is recognized and completely appreciated. To all the Leadership Team of Area and National Coordinators, thank you for the support you give to the Practitioners in your areas and for being a part of leading this company to amazing new heights each and every day. And finally, to all the Executive Team, thank you for being so great at what you do – I am both privileged and blessed to have you not only as associates but dear friends.

So from my family to yours, I wish you all a safe and happy Holiday Season filled with family and friends and may the New Year bring you much prosperity many blessings.

Holiday Wishes

We wish for you a holiday
That's better than your dreams,
Filled with peace, good will and hope
And firelight that gleams,
Overflowing with holiday spirit
Good food and holiday laughter;
And when it's done, We hope that you
Live happily ever after!

A MESSAGE FROM KEN KORNLYO

Season's Greetings!

On behalf of my department and myself, I would like to extend the sincerest and warmest wishes for the holiday season to all of The Quantum Alliance Network and beyond. We hope that 2010 will be fulfilled with all your dreams and goals that you aspire to.

This past year has been both interesting and challenging, but most importantly uplifting as an individual, as a department, as a company and as a network. 2009 started off on slow pace, but accelerated quickly this past fall with the exciting news of the NEW Indigo device soon to be released to our community. The end of 2009 marks an amazing achievement, that will have far reaching effects into 2010 and beyond for not only practitioners, but also for the individuals with sincere business goals in mind.

As a department and as a company, we are continually re-educating ourselves in order to provide the best possible service to all of you. Every day, we are striving to improve our processes, procedures and understanding so that the needs of our community are met. We appreciate your patience as we continually strive to be better for you.

Warmest wishes for the holidays and 2010,

Kenneth Kornlyo, CGA
Vice President of Finance

A MESSAGE FROM LESLIE (LAZ) TOTH

As the Holiday season is approaching, it is time to reflect on this diverse, but powerful year behind us. This year clearly proved that "Standing Strong" together as a company along with your passion, persistence and steady contribution to the science we represent, can overcome any challenges thrown to our path of advancement and success. The Quantum Alliance emerged stronger and more focused than ever before, to continue to represent and lead the Biofeedback industry in North America and around the World.

In February, after five months of filming, CBC Marketplace aired their "masterpiece" stopping at no ethical boundaries to try to discredit everything, that Prof. Nelson and many leading scientists worked on for over twenty years. Erika Johnson started her interviews at the P&E in August 2008, using all the tricks of the trade to get our practitioners to "admit" that the SCIO is treating cancer. She was not interested to hear anything else. Needless to say, and I am proud of all of you for that, she did not get what she was looking for, not just at the P&E, but a series of interviews around the Country in the following months. As a last resort to justify a show way over budget, she travelled to Budapest and managed to take a five hour interview with Dr. Nelson way out of context, thanks to creative video editing. At the end of the day, she only proved her weak and poor journalism, which wasn't taken seriously by anyone. It actually generated more sales and interest towards our Industry.

In March, we looked at our executive leadership structure, to find ways to reach out to you more effectively and bring the Quantum Community closer. We realized that we needed to focus on our original promise to you and become a SCIO Pure Company, going back to our roots. Both, the top executive team and the field managers; Regional Directors and Zone Managers have been restructured. Today, through a dedicated group of Area Coordinators we are continually looking for ways to be more connected with every one of you, and provide even more support out there. It is of course a two way street, so if in some reason your Area Coordinator was not able to connect with you so far, please reach out to him/her, because we may not have the correct contact info on file.

In April we had our best Congress ever! With about 200 delegates it was intimate, personable and a truly unforgettable experience. Therefore we decided to limit the amount of attendees in all future Congresses. So hurry up to register, because Congress 9 will fill up quickly.

The first major update in the Clasp32 software this year has kept everyone busy this year. Compliance with FDA regulations made it necessary to change all the old versions to this year's release, to leave up to our promise to the regulators. Prof. Nelson also improved on functionality, and added a number of new items. Naturally, as a distributor we had no authority to force anyone to comply with the changes, however we dedicated all of our resources to make this transition as painless as possible. Our executive team has travelled North America all summer to lead the "What's New Clasp32" Tour, to bring your hardware and knowledge up to date. Like any time any software becomes bigger and more complex, it will demand more power and memory from the adjoining computer and hardware attachments. The users generally have to adapt to new software as well, since they perform and behave differently. Well, our Clasp32 update was no different. It has challenged many, who did not keep up with the advancement of technology over the years. We as a company learned a lot from that, and concentrate on more education to better understand computer technology.

We are very proud of the improved infrastructure providing more and more access keep you, the practitioner, better connected and educated in the industry. Besides this newsletter, if you haven't yet please check out the all new Support Central, Quantum Gallery, Web Connections, Quantum Center and learn more from The Quantum Academies and Quantum Computers. In addition, as always, you can reach our Executive Team Directly with any questions, concerns, suggestions etc. at: 1 877 388-3005.

The arrival of the Indigo technology is a history making conclusion of this year and we would like to thank all of you who contributed and helped us to make this a reality. I would like to wish everyone a wonderful and peaceful Holiday season!

Regards,

Leslie (Laz) Toth, Director of Business Development

ETERNALE ALLIANCE UPDATE WITH LORI STROLIN

Wow! What an AMAZING Holiday Promotion we came up with for this month! Buy an ETERNALE, get 50 FREETRAVEL KITS! In other words, you could give them away to family friends and clients as thank you's or stocking stuffers, and let Eternale Alliance do your holiday shopping for you! Or sell them to earn yourself $2250 retail value- enough to repay your down payment and then some! Add to that the fact that now 50 of people you know will have had the opportunity to enjoy this beautiful natural skin care line, and think of the residual income potential for you as those who love it begin ordering complete sets for themselves!

A huge Thanks goes out to Noreen Kloesar for hosting an impromptu Eternale Open House last week in Winnipeg, as Brian Thompson and I drove across country we stopped in to visit with several practitioners from the area for a lovely, informative evening.

I can't think of a better tool to combat holiday stress than the Eternale; or a better support system for keeping up with New Years Resolutions to get healthier, and look and feel better in 2010. The really great aspects of Eternale are its ability to make it easier for "healers to heal themselves"- I so appreciate being able to spend just 5 minutes hooking myself up and then simply sit back, relax and receive the incredible benefits. I personally have committed to using the device at least twice each week for the months of November and December and I notice incredibly positive changes in my physical body, my stress levels, my energy, my mental outlook, my skin and my hair- without having to spend hours analyzing matrix data, creating treatment plans, and pushing buttons. I LOVE IT! I challenge all of you who own Eternales to make the same commitment to yourselves this Holiday season. Bring out your most beautiful self this year- inside and out! There is nothing more powerful than personal testimony, as we all know. My most beautiful blessings go out to everyone for a happy healthy holiday season for you and your families!

QBAA UPDATE

Thanks so much to Quantum Alliance, and all the Quantum Biofeedback practitioners who have offered their generous support of our efforts, in partnering with us to increase membership and produce research validating our beloved technology. The income QBAA is receiving from Indigo Upgrades and new memberships will allow us to sponsor the very first efficacy study on Indigo, along with a comparative study on effectiveness of both the SCIO and the INDIGO.

Those of you who were the first to purchase your Indigos for the December delivery, will be given the premier opportunity to participate in a month long study on the efficacy of the Indigo device on stress and pain- This will be a 4 week double blind comparative study beginning almost immediately after delivery of those initial devices in January. A QBAA package will be sent along with every Indigo device, detailing instructions, instruments, consent forms and an announcement of the official (and mandatory) training seminar for research participation via webex. Our goal is to have the statistical analysis and written reports of these efforts available for all on our website by April 1 and to begin seeking publication after that. We have contracted with the very lovely, talented and well published Jessica S. Goldsman, DR of Social Work Research of Yeshiva Academy in Manhattan, to consult with us for three upcoming studies in 2010! Jacqui Neulinger will be sending all QBAA members, and SCIO SERVES volunteers detailed instructions on how to sign up for this opportunity. For more info in the meantime please contact Jacqui@qbaa.org. Thanks so much.

SCIO SERVES NEWS: Despite incredibly strong response amongst practitioners across the country, this very important service oriented study on PTSD has been delayed due to insufficient funds to pay for adequate instruments of measurement, and due to accessibility issues in getting our foot in the door with the VA, until now. We anticipate that by April 1 at the latest, with adequate financing obtained, and our first Indigo studies in hand, and several other recently completed research projects we will be in a much better position to move forward with the SCIO SERVES efforts. We thank all of you for your interest, desire and patience! And we look forward to opening eyes and minds in the scientific and medical communities together in the new year~! Blessings Everyone and Happy Holidays!

SUPPORT CENTRAL UPDATE

"A human being is part of a whole, called by us the 'Universe', a part limited in time and space. He experiences himself, his thoughts and feelings and something separated from the rest -- a kind of optical delusion of his consciousness. This delusion is a kind of prison for us, restricting us to our personal desires and to affection for a few persons nearest us. Our task must be to free ourselves from this prison by widening our circles of compassion to embrace all living creatures and the whole of nature in its beauty."

Albert Einstein

The world of Biofeedback is new to me and my involvement in supporting all of you has been relatively short. Thanks to all of you (practitioners) who have opened my eyes and made me realize the value of Quantum Biofeedback and what this Biofeedback device is really all about. I love to hear your stories and how it has helped you and your clients. At one point I did not even know what biofeedback was, but now I am convinced of what it can do and your faith in it. I even had a practitioner tell me he did a session for his computer because it was contaminated with 'viruses'!

Gotta love those stories and if you want to know how that one turned out you'll have to call Support Central!

Amit Lal, Support Central Team Tech

Joining the Support Central Team in the spring of this year has been an enlightening experience and I am thrilled to be here. Thanks to the dedication and guidance of our team and The Quantum Alliance we have been able to provide continued support and growth to Biofeedback practitioners. Blessings to you and yours, filled with peace and joy, health, happiness and abundance today and always.

Bettina Martin, Support Central Team Nav.

Six years and still going strong! The many changes and new faces propel us to the next generation of energetic stress reduction. All the obstacles we have encountered on our long journey have forged us into a stronger more resilient Industry and community. Despite difficulties and nay say'ers all around us, we continue to move forward and make giant strides to further our profession. With the introduction of the Indigo, and a new and plentiful chapter in our evolution as humans, as well as Biofeedback Practitioners, is about to begin. Look into the future for our children and our people, stay strong, and have faith that what you do is making a difference in the world, and that letting your light shine will light the way for others that have yet to start on this path we are on.

J. Brown, Support Central Team Tech

Seasons Greetings to all of our Quantum Practitioners! As usual, you continue to be the most polite and patient group of people I've ever worked with. I'm grateful to be of assistance and I wish you a safe, happy and prosperous Holiday Season and New Year. I'm looking forward to adding Indigo to our quantum family and hearing all the success stories that are sure to follow.

Kare, Support Central Team Nav.

If there is one thing I've learned in my past year here, it's that energy matters. I'm not just talking about the amazing software we know and love but also about the good energy coming from those who call in with small concerns or even major challenges. These people send amazing energy my way that makes my day worthwhile. I'm happy to think that I can send them on their way with a little more knowledge about the program. I am committed to continually supporting all of you throughout the year to come.

Krisunda Lyon, Support Central Team Nav.

Happiest of Holiday Greetings!

Empowering those around you is a gift that ripples out into the Quantum backdrop and returns to you 100 fold! May your tomorrows build to that Extraordinary and Fabulous Future of your Dreams! So Be It!

Tanya Nodich, ND, CBS, CNHP, Specialized Support

Another year is soon coming to a close and we look forward to what the NewYear will bring. TQA and BHO has been collectively working together to bring you new and improved software as well as the amazing new Indigo technology!

Thank you for your patience and understanding during the turbulent, changing times we have recently come through. We have learned so much and each and everyday we are continually reminded about why we work so hard to bring you the changes you have waited so long for. Thanks for continuing to share your stories about the ways you influence and change the lives of so many people and animals with this tool. However you choose to use it, each of you plays a part in promoting both the inner and universal healing of humanity leading to oneness and world peace. What a blessing it is to work with people who have these dreams and goals. You are truly inspiring. I would like to express love and gratitude to all of you for the ways you have blessed my life, which has given me the impetus to grow and become better at what I do. I wish you all a joyful Holiday Season and that your shift into the NewYear is uplifting and enlightening in all areas of your life!

THE QUANTUM ACADEMIES UPDATE

Season's Greetings to all of our outstanding practitioners!

On behalf of our team at The Quantum Academies, I would like to thank each of our practitioners for a wonderful year as we look forward to an exciting year to come with the arrival of the Indigo! People can't stop talking about the Indigo! The wonderful thing about the excitement surrounding the Indigo is the mushrooming energy that is being felt throughout our Quantum Biofeedback community. We're all eager to see the new device and take it for a test drive and then incorporate it into our practices. Your clients will love it and appreciate you more, and in turn the Indigo buzz will repeat itself all over again within local communities. If ever there was a time to have a busier practice, surely now is that time.

As this enthusiasm abounds, it extends beyond the Indigo. My hope is that, as practitioners, we can all take this time to take account of our roles and responsibilities in practice. Since we expect positive feedback from our Indigo clients and more business as a result, then now is the time to prepare for this very near future. What do you need to do to make sure that you are ready? We've been preaching about the importance of being properly certified in biofeedback and in using educational language for many years now. It's up to you to make sure that you are client-ready.

The training courses offered through The Quantum Academies are part of an extensive program which culminates in certification through the Natural Therapies Certification Board as a Certified Biofeedback Specialist. Achieving this designation is an extremely powerful asset to have. It shows that the holder has trained extensively in biofeedback and has mastered the tools. It also shows that the holder has had experience working with clients, including the proper use of educational language and client communications. Why is this so important? The framework that we use in limiting our services to stress reduction (unless your area of practice allows you to practice beyond this scope) allows us to practice within the constraints of what is legally permissible. It is with education and experience that the practitioner knows what is within the safe zone and how to not cross that line into an unauthorized practice. There is an established market for our services within stress management and reduction, so let's make the most of it.

Please take the time to assess whether your services are operating within the zone of what is legal. First, make sure that your certification is current. Certified Technicians should continue the steps to becoming Specialists. If you do not have a certification, then you are asking for trouble with the law. Second, make sure that your clients receive a well written Informed Consent Form. You can download the most current versions from the following link: <http://thequantumacademies.com/pdf/> - You should understand the contents of this form and use this form to establish the parameters of your services. Your clients should know what to expect from your services through this communication. Third, make use of your educational language. We put a lot of emphasis on completing the Coaching Course and weaving this work into our courses so that it becomes second nature to you. It's not easy or fun to force yourself to learn a new language, but the Coaching Course will teach you how to stay away from the dangers of using prescriptive language. Too many practitioners come short of completing the Specialist requirements because of the work involved in completing the Coaching Course. If this is your situation, please know that your coaching skills are tremendously important to keeping your practice safe, and allow the challenges of meeting this requirement only gets in the way of holding a Specialist designation, which is a detriment to the success of your practice.

So let's all look forward to coming successes with the Indigo and with our stress reduction practices. But let's also prepare for this success and make sure to analyze your practice to make sure that your services are offered in a safe manner.

I would like to wish you all a warm and happy holiday season!

A MESSAGE FROM GAGE TARRANT

2009 is coming to a close, and 2010 is upon us. Our industry has seen a great deal of change over the past year, and now it's time to forge onto the next generation of Quantum Biofeedback. The past year, if not two, was a phenomenon of something that we will probably refer back to in memory as "the test": The device, and all of the scrutiny it faced from regulatory bodies and the press, represented a type of "prove it" challenge that many other industries have faced. Chiropractic has seen these same challenges, as has Acupuncture and Hypnotherapy. Those 3 fields have "passed" their tests. Now we have passed ours. We did it! We have proven not only that we have an efficient stress reduction tool, but that we are willing to live by regulations governing marketing and labeling. As we continue to move forward with this test behind us, it can only strengthen the field of Quantum Biofeedback and give us reliable ground for solid footing.

Part of the ground upon which we will be able to stand is the fact that research is proving our device works (which we already knew!) What is it "working" for? General wellness parameters of flexibility, blood pressure control and much more, to be published in the coming year in addition to the published articles that already exist. The Institute of Stress Sciences will be fully launched in the New Year, and along with that more opportunity to anchor our place in the world of health management in an integrative way.

The Institute is designed as much more than an educational body; the programs that are already in the works include outreach programs, and opportunities for people outside of our industry. There are techniques that, when coupled with biofeedback training, allow for a deeper, and more fulfilling session experience. Those techniques are not exclusive to biofeedback, and can be learned by anybody willing to undertake them. Please look for more news on this front in the New Year, as the first modules will be ready early in the year and introduced to the community via many of our talented instructors.

Till then, I hope you enjoy your holidays and embrace the bright future our industry holds.

Gage Tarrant, Vice President of Compliance

THE INDIGO ERA – THE FUTURE OF QUANTUM BIOFEEDBACK

The true success of our industry is a tribute to the efforts of our community as a whole. We are working together to truly shape the future of our company, the success of all practitioners, and the wellness of our clients. With the upcoming release of the new INDIGO System, the door to a new future, with new possibilities, resources, support and further guidance is open and more available than ever before. All designed to enhance the industry we cherish, we invite you to the next generation, the next level of innovation. Welcome to the INDIGO Era.

Part 1 - Seek, and You Will find -

Finding answers can be a challenge amongst change. Within any organization, effective resources are highly valued commodities. The Quantum Alliance believes that a better future relies on learning from past experiences, and that the experience of others is one of life's most valuable investments.

With this in mind, we are proud to be part of this next chapter in Quantum Biofeedback and are excited to be offering streamlined support for the INDIGO system, as well as continual support and service for the SCIO. Yes, the SCIO will continue to be supported!

In this "Age of Information", we all can work smarter by asking for direction, listening to good advice, and continually search for answers. As we commit daily to the Success of our community, we want to continuously be informing you on the changes, updates and special opportunities that arise!

Congratulations! By reading this you have taken one step further in becoming aware of your industry and the news that influences your profession as a Quantum Biofeedback Practitioner.

Through quality resources, our knowledge and ability to serve elevates!

With a common goal and commitment to raise the consciousness and wellbeing of our family, partners, clients and patients, it is our responsibility to search out guidance. Some of the top sources of information you can grasp are: The Quantum Academies www.thequantumacademies.com, The Quantum Alliance's weekly Web Connections www.thequantumalliance.com/webconnections/ and of course your Quantum Alliance Area Coordinators www.thequantumalliance.com/areacoordinators/.

We understand the mass amounts of information you are bombarded with daily as our inboxes are filled with spam and junk mail from various companies trying to pitch you the next best thing. This industry, this product is different. You have made a large investment and commitment to this work. By keeping the support systems informed with accurate contact information for you/your business, we are able to inform you of industry changing news and upcoming events in your area. Long story short, if you want "To Know", please update your TQA records! Email today holly@thequantumalliance.com with any new contact information you may have so we can inform, educate and make you aware of the many upcoming resources available to you!

I commend everyone who has chosen this life-changing work. I want to highly encourage you to seek out answers to your tough questions by connecting with the systems available. The time is now to build the foundation of our future. By searching for the answers we grow, through the expansion of our gifts, we better serve our own lives, and the lives we touch.

"Know where to find the information and how to use it - That's the secret of success"

Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

Part 2 - KnowYour Area Coordinator -

During the last Congress of Quantum Masters, April 2009, we launched the Area Coordinator Leadership Program. These motivated, passionate and committed individuals are an excellent “source” of information for almost all aspects of our industry. Through their invested leadership, our Area Coordinators have the resources to support your goals as a Quantum Biofeedback Practitioner.

“Knowledge is Power” ... a timeless truth.

Your dedication displayed in learning the software, how to make sense of the mass amounts of data, the collaboration of wellness theories, and how to communicate them effectively is a dignified achievement. But are you where you want to be as a practitioner? Did you envision something different? Do you know what you want to get out of this technology, this work? If you do, do you have access to the resources you need to get there?

One thing all Area Coordinators have built into their lives/business is clarity in the fact that they want to be successful in the business of helping others. They also realize that this is a people business and by connecting with the community you live in builds healthy practitioners.

Why do I really need to know who my AC is? Well, honestly, you don't. It all depends on what you want to accomplish as a practitioner. Some individuals will never seek advice, counsel and expertise from others. That is OK. But for those who want to get active in the industry, be aware of changes that effect us as wellness professionals, then reach out and get to know your Area Coordinator.

Through practitioner collaboration, mentorship and coaching, the Area Coordinator serves. or educating the public about the amazing benefits of our technology. They offer insight and awareness as you as you move through your Quantum Journey. Sales, Marketing, and Advertising ideas along with Coaching and Mentoring is the focus. YOUR Quantum Biofeedback Business is their specialty and focus. Your Area Coordinator is connected, they are “wired in” - to current events, your market and industry news, trends and new technology information. If you are searching to find how you can become more involved with your SCIO/INDIGO and your community, contact your Area Coordinator today.

Go to www.thequantumalliance.com/areacoordinators/ to find YOUR Area Coordinator Today!

Remember, our industry is about service. I personally believe that we can't serve to our highest potential without knowledge, information and resources that we can trust. I thank you for placing your confidence within The Quantum Alliance Inc. As the world's leading distributor of Quantum Biofeedback technologies, we are grateful and honored that you have chosen to work with us and we will continue to make dedicated efforts in supporting your growing business. We are passionately committed to your success!

“I don't know what your destiny will be, but one thing I know: The ones among you who will be really happy are those who have sought and found how to serve.”

- Albert Schweitzer
